

Luxury Transport – join the club!

For the first time, executives and 'well heeled' individuals can use just one pre-paid card for all their private transport needs. Unlike similar providers, Avolus luxury transport club uses sophisticated itinerary planning technology to seamlessly integrate its fleet of private jets, helicopters, limousines and even yachts with clients' travel needs across Europe, some services available to the Middle East; delivering them in style and comfort to their chosen destination.

Avolus offer clients a clear pricing policy based on a simple hourly rate for each service, with no hidden surcharges. With a pre-paid card for Jet services starting from just £10,000 (compared to £100,000 for similar competitors) protecting members' cash flow, Avolus makes trials affordable for even SMEs and private individuals. Avolus with its extensive provider network delivers valuable economies of scale, so members benefit from more choice but pay 15-20% less than they would with similar competitors. Careful selection of jet providers also ensures continuity of service across Europe and cuts standard positioning costs by up to 50%.

“ Our mission at Avolus is about comfort, convenience and confidence for all our members, yet our service is simplicity itself ”

– Alexis Grabar, co-founder and Chairman of Avolus

Avolus say 'any positioning charges would be made clear at the time of booking'.

By prepaying, Avolus members can book flights at short notice avoiding untimely delays while funds clear. An easy-to-use secure website enables members to check and top-up their credits online. The pre-paid system and hourly rates make it clear how much members will pay for any journey, based on travel time and the type of vehicle they use.
